

The Cottager's Handbook does not contain a specific provision regarding noise restrictions.

However, it is expected that, in respect to noise, cottagers act as they would if they were in a regular residential area.

If it is felt that someone is making excessive noise, or noise inappropriate for the time of day/night, a noise complaint could be filed with the RCMP.

As a comparison, "quiet time" in provincial park campgrounds is between 11 p.m. and 9 a.m.
